Harvest 2008:

The numbers noted above include the small amount of diversion that was done in the various districts. (There was about 90,000 pounds of orchard diversions.)

Overall the estimate was low by 18%. NY was closest to its estimate. WI and OR were off substantially. UT approached last year's production figure.

The CIAB meets September 12, 2008 to recommend to the Secretary the final free and restricted percentages.
